

Air Permitting LIVE
02/18/2010
9:30 - 11:30AM

<https://ohioepa.webex.com>

- Meeting found under "Meeting Center"
- Password for meeting: ilovecoffee
- Follow instructions on the screen to join the call.
  - To receive a call back, provide your phone number when you join the meeting;
OR
  - Call 1-866-699-3239 and enter access code: 680 354 799

Agenda

Stars2 Updates, Questions &amp; Info Sharing		Primary
1	Facility Profile Updates: Whose responsibility is it? DO/LAA? Facility? CO?	Engel-Ishida, et. al.
2	Check boxes in permit detail screen and how they get marked on an issued permit document	Engel-Ishida
3	How to enter PER's and why it is required.	Luksik
4	HCDOES - What is the best way to search for expired PTO's? When you use the expiration report tab in STARS2 it gives you a list of PTI's which expired (see attached)? Normally PTI's do not expire unless they do not start construction. If a company started construction then why are they listed here?	Luksik
Permitting Questions/Answers
5	Bridget Byrne - NEDO I have a Title V permit which has been issued PPP. No comments were received. It is time to issue the PP, but the permit includes an emissions unit with the <10 tpy BAT exemption. Must I reopen the PTI for this eu? If so, must it go draft again? Can I skip rewriting the PTI and rewrite this emissions unit's BAT directly into the Title V permit? If so, must the permit be reissued as draft? How best to proceed?	Hopkins
6	SEDO - For purposes of determining whether or not an insignificant emissions unit is subject to one or more applicable requirements, we understand that if you are de minimis, then you are NOT subject to one or more applicable requirements. However, is there a distinction between sources that are naturally de minimis and those that must demonstrate de minimis status through recordkeeping?	Ahern
7	SEDO - We would like an update on the incompleteness letter templates and guidance that goes with them. Are completeness letters supposed to be signed by the delegated authority as well as incompleteness letters?	Ahern